Charlottesville Psychological Associates (CPA) is an association of independent psychotherapists and practices. Each therapist is solely responsible for his or her services. Guidelines, charges, billing procedures, and insurance coverage vary by the therapist.

Specialists are available who works with caregivers and families of individuals with memory loss.

The following services are provided:

- Psychotherapy for adults, children and adolescents;
- Couples and marital therapy;
- Substance use counseling;
- Family therapy;
- Group therapy;
- Trauma therapy;
- Custody evaluations.

CPA therapists work closely with area psychiatrists and physicians when medication or medical issues may be a part of treatment. They also collaborate with schools, hospitals, employee assistance programs, attorneys and other community professionals. Because of the close relationships with other therapists in the area, the therapists can also serve as a referral source, so individuals can get the assistance they need.
