The Pittsylvania-Danville Health District provides environmental services and education to assess and monitor environmental factors that can potentially affect people's health. The Environmental Health team provide services in many program areas including permitting and inspecting of food establishments, tourist establishments, onsite sewage systems, and private wells. The Environmental Health staff investigates animal bites/rabies exposures and general environmental complaints. The staff also works to provide health education, oversight and information in a wide variety of other programs to the community. Visit the website to learn more about various environmental health topics and resources.
