The goal of Low Vision Rehabilitation is to provide training and education for individuals with visual impairment and their families in order to increase their safety and independence in performing daily tasks. By giving hope and helping with their independence, many clients can remain safely in their own environment and continue to enjoy their activities.

Our occupational therapists have received extensive advanced training, and many have a specialty certificate in low vision. They can provide training and education with all types of magnification, low vision devices, and adaptive techniques to help clients learn new ways to perform daily activities such as reading, paying bills, food preparation or taking medication. Low vision services can be provided in your home or at the clinic at our Cork Street location in Winchester. A home evaluation is provided for lighting recommendations and environmental modifications to increase independence and safety.
