At Prince William County Community Services (PWCCS), services are available for adults who are homeless and who have serious behavioral health disorders. Program for Assistance in Transition for Homelessness (PATH) services are provided to individuals with serious mental illnesses and co-occurring substance use disorders who are homeless or at imminent risk of becoming homeless. Services may include screening and diagnostic treatment, alcohol and/or drug treatment, case management and other needed community supports. For more information please contact 703-792-7947.

Staff work in shelters and other community sites in an effort to engage individuals in treatment and connect them to mainstream resources. PWCCS is a partner in community organizations (particularly the Continuum of Care) whose mission is to provide services for people who are homeless and to end homelessness in Prince William County.
