In the Independent Living (IL) program, DePaul Community Resources ' goal is to ensure that foster teenagers successfully transition to self-sufficiency. The services assist young people to develop life skills, make permanent connections to caring and committed adults, meet individual goals, and make well-informed choices for their future. Throughout the process, the staff provides guidance, compassion, and direction in navigating the journey from adolescence to adulthood.

Serves adolescents and their families.

The IL program provides the following services:

- Case management;
- Life skills assessments;

- Individual and group training opportunities on topics such as managing finances, healthy lifestyle habits, and interpersonal communication;
- Support in crisis situations;
- Connections to community resources;
- Guidance in establishing academic goals;
- Assistance in the development of career and vocational plans and individual apprenticeships.
